IG STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY

ries and Liberals Seek Control of Government.

EW PROBLEMS FOR ENGLISH PREMIER

Test of Political Strength Is Near.

itish Parliament Will Be Opened Tomorrow After a Recess of Several Months—Issues in England at This Time.

London, Feb. 14.—Domestic and ternational problems of transcending importance will confront rliament when it is convened, tomorrow, with a speech from the rone, after a recess since December 22, 1920.

Premier Lloyd George will face new test of his political strength d it is certain that the new session will mark the beginning of a eat struggle between the Tories d Liberals for control of the coalition government.

Political adherents of the premier im that his position has been engthened by the decision of the eralized supreme council to imse more than $46,000,000,000 in mnity upon Germany. It was reled that, in the last campaign eceding the general election, the emier took for one of his main isues the slogan:

"Germany will be compelled to y for the war to the last penny."

Issues that are pending between reat Britain and the United States ake it virtually certain that conderable of the parliamentary deate will have an "immigration ngle."

Irish Situation.

But first and foremost in the business on the parliamentary slate, is e Irish situation. Officials of the ish office have frankly admitted at the Irish question will be reened and that commons will be ked to put new ammendments on the partition act—the Irish me-rule law—that will make it ore acceptable to the Irish people a whole.

Since the partition act was passed d made effective, the government s made little if any progress in tablishing its provisions in Ireand. Ireland was to be divided o two parts, with a parliament the North and another parliaent in the South, but the governent as not been able to take even preliminary steps of arranging r elections. The violent guerilla arfare between the crown forces d the republicans has become ore and more bitter, devastating eat tracts of the country.

The government has not yet given hope of pacifying Ireland upon e principle of the partition act d further efforts will be made er the law is amended.

The Irish situation promises to ovide plenty of fireworks in the bate in commons.

Subjects of Debate.

It is a foregone conclusion that repellations from members of mmons will result in formal statents and debates upon the following matters:

1—Anglo-American relations and e results of the conferences which Auckland Geddes, the British bassador to Washington, held th members of the British government;

2—The status of the proposals for ncellation of the allied war debts cluding the vast sums which are ed by Great Britain and other allipowers to the United States;

3—Great Britain's intentions in Near East, especially in Mesopotamia;

4—An explanation of the break off gotiations between Great Britain d Soviet Russia for opening of mmercial relations;

5—Great Britain's attitude toards Germany if the Germans fail carry out the allies' disarmament reements;

6—Measures to alleviate British employment;

7—The budget.

Most Important.

For the British citizen and taxyer, perhaps, the budget is the most important part of the parliamentary program. The budget probably will be introduced late in March or early in April, by Austin mberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. George Younger, M. P., chairman of the Unionist party organization, estimates that it will call for expenditure during the fiscal year 1921-22, of $50,000,000 (approximately $1,000,000,000), based upon the pre-

ANOTHER VICTIM OF SLEEPING SICKNESS

Newark, Feb. 14.—Dorothy Shreck, aged fourteen, who has been a victim of sleeping sickness since January 8, died at her home here, today. A short time before her death, the temperature rose to 110, but she continued to sleep and died without a struggle.

NEW YORK BANDITS ROB FORMER OUTLAW

Take it from Al Jennings, the former outlaw of the Arbuckle mountains, the modern bandit is a heartless wretch. He has met one, and you bet, Al knows. The reformed train robber is now living in a New York hotel. While on his way home recently a New York gunman "stuck him up" and relieved him of his watch and chain and $82. The bandit left the former outlaw with a dime for carfare to his hotel. Jennings says these city bandits are worse than the outlaws of the old days.

ENCOUNTERING DIFFICULTIES

Harding Shaping Up Inaugural Address.

PRESIDENT-ELECT HAS MANY CALLERS

Work on Address Is Sandwiched in Between Interruptions by a Swarm of Visitors.

St. Augustine, Florida, Feb. 14.—Although beset with vexing cabinet difficulties and besieged on all sides by callers who desire "just a few minutes" and then stretch the time to thirty minutes, President-Elect Harding is managing to devote more and more time to the preparation of his inaugural address, now less than three weeks from delivery.

Here in this southern playground, subject to constant interruptions, Mr. Harding has found it increasingly difficult really to work at this important phase of his entrance into the White House. He has nevertheless managed to sandwich in between callers a considerable amount of thought in the matter and the address already is beginning to assume definite even though unwritten form. The inaugural address probably will not be long, it was learned today and while little intimation has been forthcoming from either the president-elect or his advisers as to the main subject matter, it is believed that the address will be devoted largely to domestic issues. The rapidly shifting phases of the international situation and the fact that the allied premiers are meeting again just a few days before he takes office, will it is believed preclude any attempt to go deeply into the international policies of the new administration. It is expected that Mr. Harding will reserve extended comment on international questions until the assembling of the new congress in special session, early in April.

This new congress will be confronted at the outset with a demand for passage of the Knox resolution, declaring a state of peace to exist with Germany and the time would be propitious for the new president to present some international views.

The Keynote.

It is believed that the keynote of the Harding inaugural will be a plea for a united America, a plea for a cessation of the partisan bitterness that has obstructed the business of government in Washington for the past two years. Decisions and policies of far-reaching consequence

SWITZERLAND THREATENING

May Withdraw from the League of Nations.

REBELS AGAINST ALLIED DICTATION

In Movement of Troops to the Vilna Zone.

Swiss Minister to Paris, Acting Under Orders of Government, Serves Notice on Head of World League, It Is Said.

Paris, Feb. 14.—Switzerland threatened, today, to withdraw from the league of nations if the allies insist that the troops bound for the Vilna plebiscite zone shall have free passage over Swiss soil.

The Swiss minister to Paris, acting upon instructions from the Swiss government at Berne, notified Gasta de Cunha, the Brazilian ambassador at Paris and the president of the league-of-nations council, that Switzerland would follow the action of Argentina in quitting the league, if the league-of-nations council, at its next meeting in Paris, February 21, insists that Switzerland permit the Vilna plebiscite troops to cross Swiss territory on their way eastward.

Switzerland has sent a note to the allies, explaining her difficult position. The Swiss government pointed out that Switzerland like other nations in the league, is "composed of groups of different nationalists holding dissenting opinions regarding the Vilna plebiscite."

The Swiss government expressed regret over its inability to comply with the allies' request for a free passage of troops, but contended that "There was no justification for stirring up a civil clash on such grounds." Futhermore, it was pointed out that at the league assembly meeting in Geneva, Switzerland announced specifically that she desired to retain her neutrality, so far as military action was concerned, although she was willing to obey the league's orders for economic pressure against recalcitrant nations.

It is understood that Switzerland was to some extent influenced to adopt her present attitude, by fears that the Swiss Communists would launch widespread agitations if the plebiscite troops were allowed to pass through that country. The Swiss Communists are opposed to the Vilna plebiscite and the Swiss government does not wish to take any action that might lead to a Bolshevik clash. The position of the Communists has been strengthened by industrial troubles and unemployment throughout Switzerland.

Vilna was formerly a Lithuanian city. When the Russian soviet army of invasion was thrown back from Warsaw, last summer and driven beyond the Polish border, a detachment of Polish troops under General Zeligowski occupied Vilna. Lithuania appealed to the league of nations. The league decided a plebiscite should be held at Vilna to determine whether the territory in that district should be retained by Lithuania or be annexed by Poland.

FIRE FOLLOWS A RAID BY THIEVES

Home of Newark Official Robbed and Burned.

Newark, Feb. 14.—Fire destroyed City Councilman George Gearhart's home, Sunday, during absence of the family. Mr. Gearhart states that burglary and arson are practically conclusive, because there was no fire burning in the house when the family left. The blaze was started in a buffet in which he had secreted $100 in metal money, belonging to the Church of Christ; a diamond ring and silverware valued at $600. This is all missing. A side door was unlocked. Loss, about $5,000, partially covered by insurance.

State Convention.

Columbus, Nov. 14.—The state convention of the Ohio branch, Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, opened here, this afternoon. J. W. Cavanaugh, Cleveland, is state president. A dinner for delegates will be given tonight. Speakers include Mayor Dempsey, of Mallow, County Cork, Ireland, one of the towns recently burned by the Black and Tans, and Mrs. W. A. King, Ironton.

To Higher Levels.

New York, Feb. 14—Price changes at the opening of the stock market this morning, were narrow, with a trend to higher levels.

ADMIRAL REPORTS REGARDING ASSAULT

Washington, Feb. 14.—The attack upon four American sailors in Vladivostok the night of February 8, was made by Russian criminals and is of no political importance, Admiral Strauss, in command of the Asiatic fleet, reported this afternoon.

OFFICER FIRED FOR STORIES OF HEROISM

Captain Edmund G. Chamberlain, who was dismissed from the United States marine corps as "the champion American Munchausen developed by the war." The official findings of the court-martial simply say that he was guilty of "falsification and scandalous conduct to the detriment of the naval service." Captain Chamberlain thrilled the allied countries two years ago with stories of having shot down numbers of German planes. He had been decorated for the alleged exploits and an investigation disclosed the fact that Chamberlain's report was not based on facts.

ANSWERS CAN NOT BE FORCED

Ruling Favors Miss Neely in McGannon Trial.

WITNESS GRILLED BY ATTORNEYS TODAY

Jury Excused While Cleveland Woman Is Questioned for Benefit of Court.

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Testimony given by Miss May Neely will go before the jury trying William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, upon an indictment, charging him with having killed his friend, Harold C. Kagy. Judge Homer G. Powell ruled, today. The defense noted an exception to the judge's ruling.

Miss Neely was not further cross-examined, but the prosecution said she might be recalled for further examination by them.

Other witnesses to testify, today, were Mrs. Harold C. Kagy, widow of the man who was slain; Detective William Peters and Sergeant Frank Schutt, of the police department. Mrs. Kagy's examination was in reference to the clothes worn by her husband at the time he was shot.

The police officers were called to attack the expected alibi of Judge McGannon.

Court Ruling.

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—Miss May B. Neely can not be compelled to answer the questions propounded to her by either prosecution or defense, Judge Homer G. Powell ruled, this morning, at the end of two hours of cruelling examination conducted by Assistant County Prosecutor Cassidy, in which the witness admitted that her testimony given at the former trial was true "to the best of her knowledge."

The assistant prosecutor argued that the only crime of which she could have been guilty was perjury and that the witness, by her answer to this question, had put herself outside the rule.

The court, however, ruled that it was not necessary that an answer should convict; all that the rule required was that it "tend to incriminate." He thereupon ruled that the witness need not answer.

During the examination of Miss Neely, this morning, the jury was excused and the examination was conducted only in the presence of the court and spectators.

After Judge Powell had given his

A JAP REGENCY MAY BE RESULT

Downfall of Clan System Is Believed Near.

RESIGNATION OF PRINCE YAMAGATA

As President of Privy Council Is Sent Emperor

Domestic Matters and International Issues Bound Up in Intrigue of Two Leading Japanese Clans, It's Claimed.

Tokyo, Feb. 14.—The Japanese court cabal, involving Crown Prince Hirochito's love affair with Princess Nagako and the possible downfall of the clan system in the imperial government, came to a head, today, with the resignation of Prince Yamagata as president of the privy council. The resignation was sent to the emperor.

The governmental and court struggle between the opposing clans, which seems to be fast approaching its final climax, may result in the establishment of a regency during the illness of Emperor Yoshihito Harunomiya, who has long been ill and unable to attend to state affairs.

Not only domestic matters, but international issues are bound up in the outcome of the intrigue. Prince Yamagata is leader of the powerful Chosu clan. For six years he has been virtual arbiter of the destinies of the empire. Princess Nagako is the daughter of a leader of the Satsuma clan, which has been waging relentless war against the Chosu clan.

Decide To Wait.

London, Feb. 14.—The allies have decided to wait for President-Elect Harding's declaration of policy, before making their final decision, on Turkish and German problems, according to the Daily Telegraph, today.

Island of Yap.

London, Feb. 14.—Great Britain will refuse to participate in the proposed new international cable conference, "because her motives in trying to mediate the Yap island dispute between the United States and Japan were misunderstood." It was learned from an official source, today. Great Britain's withdrawal is understood to have taken offense at implications that she was aiding Japan. Both Japan and America claim control of the cable station on Yap island.

THOUSANDS PAID FOR SIMPLE DINNER

Steubenville Contributes to Famine Relief Fund.

Steubenville, Feb. 14.—Six thousand dollars for a dinner of rice, brown bread without butter, prunes and cocoa, is the record of Steubenville in the famine relief campaign which has been carried on here for the past few days. More than 400 tickets were sold at $10 each and the guests ate the "sketchy" menu and enjoyed addresses by several local people, also by a chaplain returned from overseas work and the director of the Near-East relief work in Ohio. The guests were seated at tables made of plain, unpainted boards, placed on wooden "horses" in the handsome ballroom of the largest hotel in the city.

Would Not Withdraw Soldiers from Haiti.

NATIVES ARE IN NEED OF PROTECTION

Few Are Against Occupation by Americans.

Admiral Gives Results of His Investigation of Conditions in Island Republic—Some Important Facts Are Given.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The United States, having "put its hand to the plow" in Haiti, must not now turn back through withdrawal of the American forces there, Rear Admiral H. S. Knapp declared in a report in which he presented in final form the results of his investigations in the island republic for the navy and state departments.

Agitation against the American occupation of Haiti, Admiral Knapp asserted, is inspired by a desire on the part of a small group, who, he said, represent at the most less than five per cent. of the population. This group of agitators, he added, are working to gain a hearing and the sympathy of the people of the United States, although their real object is to obtain abrogation of the treaty between the United States and Haiti and to bring about a return of the old conditions of government.

"Could this be attained," Admiral Knapp in his report continued, "I think that 99 out of every 100 Haitiens would be glad to see the American forces remain to enforce good order. In other words, the Haitians, even the worst agitators among them, would be willing to have the United States act the part of policemen and otherwise leave them to their own devices.

"The ninety-five per cent. would be exploited for the dishonest benefits of the five per cent. If these ends were attained. The ninety-five per cent. would enjoy less real freedom than they do now. Should the United States now withdraw, leaving the political agitators to their own devices, it would, in my opinion, be surrendering the true interests and true freedom of ninety-five per cent. of the population and encouraging the unworthy minority to go on with its dishonest, arbitrary and tyranical measures. While it is probably impossible to state that graft does not now exist, it is concealed graft unknown to the United States treaty officials."

"The people of the United States," the admiral's report said, "should not allow themselves to be deceived by the words 'republic of Haiti into believing that there exists in Haiti, or ever has, a republic in any sense founded upon the expressed will of an intelligent and educated electorate. The so-called republic of Haiti, left to itself, has been a tyranical oligarchy in which those in power fattened upon the vast mass of the population."

"Tranquility and security now exist in Haiti practically throughout the country."

Miss Virginia Mackay Smith, daughter of the late Bishop Alexander Mackay-Smith, of the Episcopal diocese of Philadelphia, was married to Captain Karl Boy-Ed, former naval attache of the German embassy, according to a report from Philadelphia. The news was conveyed to close friends in Philadelphia and Lancaster, in a cablegram from Mrs. Mackay-Smith, according to the report. The wedding mark the culmination of a romance which started in Washington five years ago.

HEARING DATE FIXED BY BOARD

Dispute Over Erie Wages To Get Attention.

WAGE REDUCTION HELD IN ABEYANCE

Hearing in Matter To Be Held by Federal Railway Labor Board February 23.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The United States railway board, today, set for hearing, February 23, the dispute over proposed wage reductions between the Erie railway and its employes.

January 31, the announcement of the federal board reads, the Erie reduced the wages of its trackmen to thirty cents an hour; ordered train despatchers to work seven days a week, without relief and ordered the deduction of the January 31 earnings of telegraphers, whether they worked or not that day.

The United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employes and Railroad Shop laborers and the American Train Dispatchers' association immediately protested the order. Today's ruling by the federal board orders the reductions to be held in abeyance until the formal hearing, February 23, holding the Erie's order was contrary to article III, section 6, of decision No. 2, of the board.

Held Prejudicial.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The Nebraska intrastate railroad rates, fares and charges were, today, held to be unduly prejudicial, by the interstate commerce commission. The commission held that the Nebraska intrastate rates constitute an unjust discrimination against interstate commerce. The commission directed the rates raised to the level of the interstate rates and made effective on or before March 22. Additional revenue to the carriers from passenger fares alone, by this decision, will be approximately $3,000,000 a year.

IMPEACHMENT IS ASKED TODAY

Representative Welty Drives at Judge Landis.

STARTS PROCEEDINGS IN FEDERAL HOUSE

Charges High Crimes and Official Misdemeanors.

Formal Steps Taken To Secure a Trial for Impeachment. Judge Landis Answers South Carolina Senator.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Impeachment of Federal Judge K. M. Landis, "for high crimes and misdemeanors in office," was asked of the house, today, by Representative H. F. Welty, Democrat, of Ohio.

"I impeach Judge Landis," Welty declared and entered the formal procedure to secure an impeachment trial for the judge.

The impeachment charge is based solely on Judge Landis' connection with organized baseball and his receipt of salary from the baseball organizations.

The impeachment charge was referred to the house judiciary committee for investigation. On the report of the committee will depend whether Judge Landis is to be sent to trial before the senate for impeachment and removal from office. The committee may report the impeachment charges unsubstantiated.

Representative Welty moved his impeachment charges, today, by declaring in the house:

"March 3, 1917, the sixty-fifth congress passed an act which in part, provides that:

"'No government official or employe shall receive any salary in connection with his service as such official or employe, from any source other than the government of the United States.'

"I therefore impeach said Kenesaw M. Landis, as follows:

"First, for neglecting his official duties for another gainful occupation, not connected therewith.

"Second, for using his office as district judge of the United States to settle disputes which might come into his court as provided for by the laws of the United States."

Breathes Defiance.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Defiance of Senator Nat R. Dial, of South Carolina, Democrat, in which he dared the latter to stand for an investigation of wages and working conditions in his cotton mills and banks, was expressed by Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis yesterday.

Judge Landis punctuated his remarks with characteristic gesture as he paid respects to the senator, who had spoken of impeachment proceedings regarding the judge's action in the case of an Ottawa bank clerk.

While the judge was flinging his challenge, Mrs. Mary Belle Spencer, public guardian of Cook county, made public a rebuke that she wired to Senator Dial.

In attacking Judge Landis, Mrs. Spencer charges Senator Dial with having resorted to a practice of the underworld.

"What is the senator paying to those fellows in his banks and the children in the cotton mills?" asked the judge.

"He couldn't stand for an investigation of wage conditions in the institutions he owns.

"He is an owner of the industry which, from his own state, caused the repeal of the federal child labor law.

"It would be 'cold meat' for an investigator to go down to South Carolina and obtain the facts on the low salaries that he is paying in his cotton mills and banks.

"No doubt he has hundreds of little girls, as young as eleven years old, working for him.

"And remember, he is a United States senator who soon will pass on his own taxes, those of the industry in which he makes his money, and those of the men with whom he competes in business."

"What is your impression of the impeachment talk?" the judge was asked.

A Gesture.

"Pish, posh," he laughed. "Dial demonstrates the proposition that I have a positive genius in the selection of enemies."

"I don't condone stealing!" added the judge.

"The rub is that this Ottawa boy was receiving but half of what a carpenter or a section hand on the railroad is able to make."

NEW FIRE LAWS ARE DEMANDED

State Fire Marshal Spurred by Fire Tragedies.

WOULD CHECK LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

By Holding Careless People To Answer in Court.

Many Lives Lost in Ohio During Last Year as Result of Persons Failing To Use Reasonable Care—Ohio Legislature.

Columbus, Feb. 14.—State Fire Marshal Dykeman, today, is giving consideration to the proposal that the state legislature be urged to enact more stringent legislation relative to fixing responsibility for fires.

The fire marshal's activity along this line is prompted by the twelve deaths, due to fires, in Ohio this month, thirty-seven last month and 377 last year.

A bill may be introduced, modeled somewhat after the Pennsylvania laws, which provides that a person who has a fire, due to carelessness, or to the neglect of any reasonable precaution, or because of failure or refusal to carry out a safety order by lawful authority, shall be held personally responsible for the consequences of the fire.

A bill requiring all steam and electric railroads, bus and motor car lines, to furnish half-fare to public and parochial school children using the lines on their way to and from school, is expected to be introduced this week, by Representative Butterworth, Cincinnati.

Representative Morris, Cincinnati, announced that a bill seeking to legalize the practice of Christian science, will be introduced. A similar measure, introduced at the last session by Representative Morris, was defeated.

The house is expected to vote, tomorrow, on the question of passing the Harding state constabulary bill and Wednesday afternoon, on the Taft bill, providing for temporary financial relief for cities; the Griswold resolution, providing for submission to the voters at the November election of a proposed amendment to the state constitution, limiting the power of political sub-divisions to create debts and the Griswold bill, relating to debt limitation.

Hearings are to be started, this week, by the senate and house reorganization committeemen.

GREEN CAMP GRAIN COMPANY'S DIRECTORS

They Are Elected Last Week. Notes.

Green Camp, O., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Tuesday afternoon at the business room of the town hall the Green Camp Grain company met for its annual election of directors. The directors elected for the coming year are W. S. Ruth, Jacob Carry, H. W. Beaver, O. W. Kinnemon, J. M Wollinger, J. D. Chard and E. B. Firstenberger.

William DeLong, west of town, has been seriously ill the past week with pneumonia.

F. E. Rittencur, of Columbus, has been secured by the board of education to fill the unexpired term of Superintendent J. W. Kern, who left last week for Athens normal school.

On account of the deplorable condition of the roads, the drivers of the centralized school trucks were unable Friday to make their trips.

Mrs. W. W. Kipler, who was hurt several months ago, is still in a serious condition.

The Community meeting which was to have been held Friday evening at the town hall was postponed on account of the inclement weather.

DAYTON HAS BAN ON PUGLISTIC AFFAIRS

City Manager Declares They Are Against Law.

Dayton, Feb. 14.—There will be no more boxing exhibitions of the type on the city mat until the state law is changed, it is the view of City Manager Barber, today. The city manager said he is sworn to uphold the state law and it is against the policy of the city, although Barber says he is not. One fight has been held since Barber came from Johnstown, Pennsylvania, but this he said was arranged before he arrived. Benny Leonard and Eddie Moy, of Allentown, Pennsylvania, were to meet here next Monday night. Permits for out-of-the-city contests are granted by the county officials.

Sheriff Cusick said he would probably follow suit, thus stopping bouts in the county.

Frank Mantell, promoter of the Leonard-Moy fight, declares a permit obtained from the county will permit the bout outside the city limits.

SENATORS TALK WITH HARDING

Foreign Affairs and Western Reclamation Discussed.

EUROPE READY FOR AMERICAN LEAD

Foreign Nations Willing To Take Up New World Peace Plan, Says Senator McCormick.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 14.—President-elect Harding held conferences here with Senator McCormick of Illinois in regard to foreign affairs and Senator McNary of Oregon relative to a program for western reclamation. Mr. Harding also had a long talk with A. B. Hough, editor of the Jacksonville Times Union, about plans for a world peace association, and said afterward he was much impressed by Mr. Hough's recommendations.

Senator McCormick is said to have assured the president-elect that the European nations stood ready to follow the lead of the United States in the formulation of a new basis for world peace.

Although Mr. Harding is considering the question of diplomatic appointments along with the cabinet problem, it is not expected now that he will attempt any selections for diplomatic posts before inauguration. Some of those now considered for the cabinet may later be transferred to the ambassadorial list, but the cabinet personnel will be definitely determined first.

OLD DOBBIN MAY COME BACK OWING TO MUD

Some School Boards Arranging for the Change

MOTOR VEHICLES UNABLE TO PLOW THROUGH MUCK

Never in History of County, It Is Said, Have Roads Been So Bad in February.

Rural mail carriers, county school pupils and rural residents in general are confronted with the worst road conditions in years for February. With the exception of the hard roads, the mild weather of the past week has caused the "bottom to drop out" of the roads and some are impassable. This is particularly true of the sand and gravel roads and the condition is causing a drop in the attendance in the county schools.

Rural mail carriers, while experiencing considerable difficulty in making their rounds, have not yet reported any inability to complete their routes. The Marion-Waldo-Ashley bus line has been forced to abandon the Ashley end of its route on account of the mud.

Pupils who live in the one-room school districts and have to walk any distance probably are experiencing more inconvenience on account of the roads than any other. There appears to be an epidemic of colds among children in these schools which is keeping not a few of them out of school.

Back to Old Dobbin.

While none of the street transportation routes have been abandoned on account of the roads, all are having their troubles and some school boards are making arrangements to change from motor vehicles to wagons if the road conditions do not improve within a few days. Green Camp district is one which is making arrangements for this change and one or two others may be forced to follow the same method.

The Waldo centralized district uses wagons exclusively for the transportation of pupils. Marion boards furnish transportation for pupils living more than one and one-half miles from centralized schools and for pupils living more than two miles from other county schools. Where such provision is furnished it is required that the route shall be over the most direct road from the residence of the pupil.

Blamed on Roads.

Road conditions also are keeping the Marion town ship board of education from erecting the vacant school building in Green Camp township for the use of the pupils of the Campbell school, which burned last Thursday.

The Green Camp board has tendered the building to the Marion township board for any use it wishes to make of it, but the Marion board has deferred action on account of the bad roads.

At a meeting of the township board in Lippincott brothers' office, Saturday afternoon the board members discussed the question of housing the Campbell district and postponed action in the hope of securing a house near the burned school for use during the remainder of the term. It was pointed out that the vacant school building is so situated that the roads would be practically impassable in the spring, as well as now. Meantime the Campbell school pupils are enjoying a vacation from school duties.

VESSELS SOUGHT TO CARRY GRAIN

American Farmers Contribute to Relief of China.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Congress will be asked to enact special legislation authorizing the shipping board to employ vessels to haul to China grain donated by American farmers for the relief of the starving in that country and giving the navy department permission to pay the necessary expenses of voluntary navy reserves to form crews for the vessels, it was announced after a conference between Secretary Daniels and Chairman Benson of the shipping board. The decision was reached after a committee headed by Carl Vrooman, [illegible] assistant secretary of agriculture, said that the grain already given by farmers in the [illegible] members of the railroad stood ready to haul it to the coast without charge for their services. Chairman Benson agreed to ascertain at once what ships were available for the purpose on the Pacific coast.

OFFICIAL DENIAL MADE BY WILSON

Is Not Working for Cancellation of Allied Loans.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Official denial was made, today, of published reports that President Wilson had promised to work for the cancellation of the allied loans, upon ratification of the peace treaty by the United States. Many suggestions for cancellation of the allied loans were made indirectly in the peace conference, it was stated, but it was not until after the peace conference that the matter was taken up formally with the treasury department, by the British government.

He was on his way to a bank with the money and was not more than fifty yards from the store when the holdup was staged. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Girl Is Missing.

Newark, Feb. 14.—Florence Smith, eighteen, ward of Mrs. Charles Seward, is strangely missing since last night at 8 o'clock. Her coat, hat, finger ring and purse, were found along the railroad tracks in the north part of the city, this morning. Police are making every effort to clear the mystery.

Cuts Naval Enlisted Strength

Washington, Feb. 14.—The house accepted the provision for reducing the enlisted strength of the navy from 143,000 to 100,000 men after July. During consideration of the naval appropriation bill no objection was raised to the section providing funds sufficient only for a force of 100,000 [illegible] coming fiscal year.

EUROPE IN BAD FINANCIAL WAY

Can Not Pay Interest on Loans in Gold.

DECLARATION OF JOHN HAYS HAMMOND

America Can Not Accept Payment in European Products. Would Hurt Industry.

New York, Feb. 14.—"As a great creditor nation, we are faced with the danger of being impaled upon one of the two horns of the dilemma in the liquidation of Europe's indebtedness to us," declared John Hays Hammond, who is spoken of as a cabinet possibility, in an address on "Business and Industrial Outlook," before the National Civic federation here, today.

"Europe can not pay even the interest upon our loans in gold, nor would the payment in gold be altogether to our advantage. If we accept the products of Europe in payment, we must greatly curtail the operation of our own mills, involving widespread unemployment and consequent industrial distress. It would be even better for us to cancel our European debts than risk this danger. On the other hand, if we place an embargo on the products of our allies, they will not be able to repay their loan.

TWO MEN DIE IN BURNING HOTEL

Grand View, Texas, Feb. 14.—James McDonald and Paul Lockhart, both of Henrietta, Texas, were burned to death in a fire which, early today, destroyed the Commercial hotel here. This is the second disastrous fire within a year, flames eight months ago, having destroyed the entire business section at a loss of $2,000,000.

Real Estate Board Adopts Commission Rate in Sale.

The Marion Real Estate board held a well-attended meeting at noon today, at the Busy Bee banquet room. It was decided by the board that the minimum commission fee for the sale of real estate would be two per cent.

Valentine Party.

The members of the Amaranthine club entertained their husband and families at a valentine party, Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Linten, on Carhart street. The home was decorated with valentine emblems. Two contests were held, honors going to Mr. Cleon Williams and Mr. Leo Pennock. Music and games were enjoyed and a valentine supper served.

Mrs. John Bricker, who has been ill at her home in Green Camp, is reported improved today.

CHILD GETTING BACK TO NORMAL

Talks 212 Hours as Result of Spine Injury.

SIMPLE OPERATION BRINGS RESULTS

Case Baffles Leading Physicians and Neurologists Until Injury Is Discovered.

Waukegan, Illinois, Feb. 14.—Miriam Rauch, "the eight-year-old talking girl," who chattered and babbled almost continuously for more than 212 hours, is improving, today and physicians believe she is about cured of her strange malady. Recurrent attacks are expected, physicians said, but it is believed that a treatment has been found that eventually will effect a cure.

After every form of sedative known to leading physicians and neurologists of Waukegan and Chicago had been administered without result, Dr. Paul Berger, an osteopath of Waukegan, was called in. Dr. Berger's examination revealed that the vertebrae in the child's spine had become dislocated and one of them was pinching the nerves that control the organs of speech.

Dr. Berger exerted pressure on the girl's spine and the vertebrae snapped back into place. Soon after, Miriam dropped off to sleep and slept for more than an hour. After awakening, she started to talk again, but soon fell off into another slumber. Although she still talks incoherently at intervals when awakened, the child's fever is receding and the nervous tension she has experienced for more than nine days has relaxed. Physicians reported, today, that her condition was rapidly approaching normal.

HER SPRING HAT BLOWS OFF IN SPRING ZEPHYR

Only Thing Reporter Forgets in This Spring Story.

It was like a gentle March wind blowing against the breath of February today!

There was a spring punch in it that made one feel buoyant—or bully.

The sun was bright enough and the day clear enough to take all the poignancy out of February's distressing, depressing weather, and everybody appeared happy.

The fact is that the weatherman never turned out a better brand of February weather than he did for the greater part of today at least.

Spring millinery was much in evidence.

If the usual old crab of a February continues to be as sweet the remainder of the month, then February will have lost its dread for the bulk of Marionites who are not in a position to seek a warmer climate somewhere in the Southland or in the golden West, say California, or Oregon, or any place where it is warm at this season of the year.

Clarence Hosler, of Breen street, underwent an operation for appendicitis this morning at the City hospital. He is reported as doing nicely.

OPPOSING ANY NAVAL HOLIDAY,

Michigan Representative Talks to the House.

VOTE ON TARIFF BILL IS EXPECTED

Friends of Emergency Measure Believe Senate Will Act Tomorrow—Other Bills.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Opposing any naval holiday for the United States, Representative Kelly, of Michigan, chairman of the naval appropriations committee, today stated in the house that suspension of the naval building program for six months would prove more costly to the government in damages, waste and compensation adjustment than the cost of completion of the existing contracts.

Tariff Bill.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Members of the senate finance committee in charge of the emergency tariff bill in the senate will endeavor to get a vote on the measure before adjourning, tomorrow, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, announced in the senate, today.

An Amendment.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The senate, today, passed an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, providing for a $240 annual bonus to government employes, including navy yard workers and arsenal employes.

Houston Called.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Houston was called upon, today, by the senate judiciary committee to, appear before it, tomorrow, with all information and papers bearing on the status of foreign loans, credits, or other commitments which he possesses.

Information Asked.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Information relative to alleged agreements and understandings between American trunk line railroads and foreign steamship lines, is requested from the interstate commerce commission in a resolution introduced in the senate, today, by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, of Florida.

Urging Haste.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Telegrams urging that efforts be made to dispose of bill pending appropriation bills at this session and to prevent any of them being held over until the next congress, were received, today, from President-Elect Harding by Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, and Representative Mondell, Republican of Wyoming, the Republican leader of the house.

Rate Reductions.

Washington, Feb 14.—Reduction of railroad freight rates and railroad wages are urged by Representative Black, of Texas, who introduced in the house, today, resolutions asking the interstate commerce commission to review and revise downward the rate of July, 1920, and the railroad labor board to revise its wage increases, which preceded the rate increases.

IN COMMON PLEAS

Leave To Amend.

The motion of the defendant to strike out certain allegations in the plaintiff's petition was sustained in the common pleas court this morning in the $10,000 damage suit of Daisy Hofstetter against Murray Shuey. The plaintiff was given leave to amend her petition by February 19. The suit is the result of injuries alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff when she was struck by an automobile at Quarry and north State streets, September 9, 1920.

Motion Is Sustained.

Judge Grant E. Mouser this morning sustained the motion of the defense to require the plaintiff to make his petition more definite and certain and strike out certain words in the $1,500 damage suit brought by Edward F. Evans against J. Remsberg. The plaintiff was given leave to answer or plead by February 19. The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident.

Hatfields Against Hatfields; McCoys Against McCoys.

NEW ALIGNMENTS IN FEUDAL FAMILIES

McCoys Appear at Trial To Help Hatfield Defense—Features of Trial.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 14.—An elaborate relief map of the Matewan "battlefield" was introduced by the state in the Mingo miners' case today. It is a striking reproduction in plaster-of-paris, of that portion of the little mining settlement where the drama of May 19, last, was enacted costing the lives of ten men within less than two minutes. The attractively colored cast, showing streets and buildings, looked more like a little toy town for a child to play with than an exhibit of the prosecution to illustrate the gruesome story of a bullet orgy, for which nineteen men are on trial for their lives.

It was spread out at the foot of Judge Robert D. Bailey's bench, directly in front of the jury. The attention of the jurors was intense while counsel for both sides used the map to emphasize points.

Crimson dots mark some of the buildings on the relief map. They represent the blood spots made by victims of the gun battle as they leaned against walls or doors before collapsing under the torture of their wounds.

Greenway W. Hatfield, former Mingo county sheriff, brother of the ex-governor of West Virginia, helped the state in identifying places on the "plaster town." He is one of the chief aides of the prosecution. There is bitter blood between this burly ex-sheriff, one of the leading political figures of Mingo and the Hatfield who is about half his age—Sid., chief of police of Matewan, who heads the list of defendants.

Every now and again these two men measure each other with glances that convey worlds of hatred and contempt. It is one of the peculiar features of the trial, that a McCoy and a Hatfield sit side by side in defendants' row, while Hatfields are pitted against Hatfields and McCoys against McCoys, some branches of these famous feud families siding with the state against the accused.

Daughter Against Father.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 14.—Without a sign of any emotion, except impatience, nineteen-year-old Elsie Chambers, a rosy-complexioned, blonde telephone operator, today began to undergo the ordeal of cross-examination in the "trigger trial." Her blue eyes coolly swept defendants' row as she answered the questions put to her by J. J. Conniff, for the defense. Now and then they rested for a second on the face of her father, Reese Chambers, the oldest of the accused.

She repeated the threat which she swore, Saturday, Sid. Hatfield made, the afternoon of the battle, that "we'll kill the —— before they can leave town," referring to the thirteen Felts detectives.

Chambers to whom the girl bears a striking resemblance, looked at her with utter indifference, though he plainly followed her every word with keenest attention.

His eyes were ever cooler than hers.

ruling. Attorney W. H. Boyd, chief defense counsel, again moved that the entire evidence of the witness be stricken from the record and that the jury be instructed to disregard it.

Population Figures.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The 1920 population of Huntington, West Virginia, announced at 50,177, consists of 47,279 whites, or 94.2 per cent.; 2,030 negroes, or 5.8 per cent., and eight all other races, the census bureau announced, today.

HAMPER OIL MEN OF UNITED STATES

Certain Countries May Feel Effects of Embargoes.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The president should be given authority to lay embargoes on the exportation of oil to countries which refuse to allow American citizens to own and acquire oil lands in such foreign countries, Secretary Daniels informed Chairman Page of the senate naval committee.

The naval secretary, who was replying to an inquiry from Senator Pake relative to the pending Phelan bill, declared he did not favor the laying of such embargoes by statute, but believed authority placed in the hands of the president, as contemplated by the Phelan measure, would "be more sweeping, elastic and of more potential value than a direct retaliatory measure."

The oil situation, Mr. Daniels wrote, "is no longer a national affair, but it has assumed an international aspect, which must be handled by the president and the department of state." He referred to recent figures issued by the geological survey as to the oil resources of the United States, and declared that in view of the decreasing available supply "it behooves the United States government to take some steps to safeguard the remaining supply."

must be formulated within the four years after March 4 and the gravity of these matters and the need for business stability and confidence in the new administration will be emphasized. So engrossed has the president-elect been in his cabinet selections and consideration of his inaugural address, that he has not been able to give more than casual consideration thus far to the important diplomatic appointments which he will be called upon to make, soon after March 4. It is expected that some of these will be taken up with Charles Evans Hughes, the probable new secretary of state, on his arrival in St Augustine, the latter part of this week.

On Mr. Harding's conference list, today, were Henry Wise Wood, of New York, and Thomas Lamont, of the banking firm of Morgan & Company, New York. Wood has been put forward as a possible recipient of a diplomatic appointment. He also is interested in disarmament plans. In addition to these callers, three United States senators are stopping at the Ponce de Leon and probably will see the president-elect during the day. The are Watson, of Indiana; McNary, of Oregon, and McCormick, of Illinois.

The presence of the Harding party in St. Augustine has drawn here many persons who hope to get a word with the new president on every conceivable subject under the sun. One woman was quite persistent that she get an immediate interview with Mr. Harding regarding her son's appointment to the naval academy. Inquiry by Harding's aides developed that the son would not attain the age of appointment for six years.

METEORIC SHOWER IS ASSURED EARTH

Comet with a Flighty Nature Is Approaching.

London, Feb. 14.—The greatest display of fireworks that the world has yet seen, including a bump, is due to occur June 26, if Pons-Winnicke is allowed to have its own way. Pons-Winnicke is described as a "comet with a flighty nature and irresponsible habits, traveling 700 miles in excess of the speed limit and heading straight for the earth."

Unless the comet can get provided with a rival attraction, or the earth can be induced to swerve at the psychological moment, the two will come into collision June 26. These facts are given by Dr. Crommelin, known as the most famous astronomical mathematician in the world.

"Pons-Winincke was discovered 100 years ago," said Dr. Crommelin. "It is a short-period comet, and returns every five and three-quarter years. If there is a collision the world will not be wiped out, but there will be the biggest shower of meteors ever seen, and possibly some damage and casualties. After that date, however, the comet will recede."

BIG STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY

war value of the British pound.) This is the lowest estimate that has been put forth, despite the vigorous efforts of the government to cut down all expenses to the minimum.

The press, particularly the Northcliffe papers, have been waging a violent campaign against extravagance. Even 950,000,000 pounds is a big reduction from the past budget. The budget for 1920-1921 called for 1,418,300,000 pounds sterling and the budget for 1919-1920 called for 1,665,775,000 pounds. It will be seen that, despite the gigantic size of the British empire, stretching around the world, it does not cost so much more to run the London government than the United States government at Washington.

It is more likely that the foreign office will be asked for a statement upon several matters involving the United States.

Drastic Steps.

London, Feb. 14.—Powerful precautionary measures will be taken by Scotland Yard, tomorrow, to prevent attacks by Sinn Feiners and hostile demonstrations by the unemployed, when parliament is opened by King George. Strong forces of police and secret service agents will guard parliament building and will line the streets through which the king will drive on his way to Westminster, from Buckingham palace.

"Especial precautions" of a secret nature, will be adopted to protect the royal family during the opening ceremonies.

Firebugs Busy.

London, Feb. 14.—An organized attack of incendiarism, attributed by Scotland Yard to Sinn Feiners, has swept through the English industrial belt in the past forty-eight hours. Four factories at Manchester were set on fire; three at Oldham and one at Stockport. Other attempts to burn industrial plants were reported from Rochdale and Roydon. On account of the vigilance of the police and firemen, the damage was small.

British police in Ireland carried out an official reprisal in the Glenpool district, for the killing of two members of the crown forces, January 24, according to a Central News despatch from Dublin.

ator Dial by Mrs. Spencer reads:

"It is not on your account, nor on account of your speech but solely on account of the office of honor that you hold, that I answer you that the citizens of this district will rise up as one man to voice their outrage that an incumbent of your office has resorted to the practice of the underworld and struck at the dignity and majesty of the law, at the fountain-head of justice, the United States District court.

"Our judges dare the bullet of the assassin in the performance of their duty.

"You entrench yourself behind the protection of legislative office while secure from arrest for contempt, you fire at a great jurist.

"Senator Thomas has asked: "Do you know anything about Judge Landis?"

"I answer that we do. We know that the value of his services in our court is so great that no man may measure it.

"His presence on the bench is the greatest detriment to violation of the law. His mere existence gives pause to every miscreant, because it is not the law they fear, but the enforcement of its penalties."

FUNERAL OF LATE BISHOP FARRELLY

Will Be Held in the Forest City Thursday.

Cleveland, Feb. 14. — The body of Rt. Rev. John P. Farrelly, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Cleveland, arrived in this city today from Knoxville, Tenn. The funeral will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. The body will lie in state in St. John's cathedral. Archbishop Moeller of Cincinnati is expected to be the celebrant of the pontifical requiem mass.

Bishop Farrelly was taken ill at Knoxville while attending mass on Sunday, Feb. 6. Pneumonia developed and resulted in a heart affection. The bishop died Saturday.

Bishop Farrelly was born in Memphis, Tenn., March 15, 1856. He was the fourth bishop of the diocese of Cleveland. He was named to this office by Pope Pius X in March, 1909. Prior to this appointment he was spiritual director of the American college in Rome for 25 years. Under his administration the diocese of Cleveland has become one of the largest in the United States. It comprises a large portion of northern Ohio.

WOMAN CONVICTED OF MURDER KILLED

Falls While Trying To Escape from a Toledo Jail.

Toledo, Feb. 14.—While attempting to escape from the county jail, Mrs. Myrtle Hemsley, convicted of the murder several months ago of Leo Cousino, fell from the roof of the two-story building and was so badly injured that her death occurred a few hours later in a hospital. Mrs. Hemsley was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Marysville reformatory on Dec. 16. Commitment to the penitentiary had been delayed pending a motion for retrial on the ground of error. The hearing was to have been held this week.

Mrs. Hemsley, gaining the confidence of the jail matron, secured the key to her cell, escaped from the women's cell block and climbed out upon the roof. While attempting to swing herself to the ground on a rope made of bed blankets she lost her grip and fell about 40 feet.

The members of the Lutheran Mission society met at the home of Mrs. Samuel Almendinger, Wednesday afternoon. The lesson was in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Masters and Mrs. Margaret Issler, the subject being "Missions in New Orleans." Delegates were appointed to go to the missionary conference in Columbus Thursday. The delegates are Mrs. Samuel Almendinger adnand Mrs. Edward Lauer.

Mrs. Hugh Harkins entertained the L. A. S. of the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon.

WANTS TROOPS TO REMAIN FOR TRIAL

Judge Seeks Federal Protection at Williamson.

Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 14.—Strenuous eleventh-hour efforts are being made by Judge Robert D. Bailey to prevail upon the war department to keep the federal troops here until the Mingo miners' trial is over.

The troops—about 100 strong—are scheduled to return to Camp Sherman, Wednesday. All requests to Washington, through Governor Cornwell and other channels, to keep the troops here have failed thus far. Their departure at this stage of the trial—when every hour's fresh revelations on the witness stand feed the flames of violent passions—is looked forward to by the authorities and the vast majority of Williamson's population, with the gravest misgivings.

A direct appeal to Secretary of War Baker is reported to be under consideration.

Center of Population.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The center of population of the United States, as shown by the 1920 census, is at the extreme southeast corner of Owen county, Indiana, 8.3 miles southeast of Spencer, Indiana, the census bureau announced today.

To Have Charge.

Cleveland, Feb 14.—An administrator of the Cleveland diocese, to have charge until the selection of a successor to the late Bishop John P. Farrelly, must be selected by the "consulters" of the diocese, under canon law, within eight days. These "consulters" are representative priests, but should they fail to perform the duty the administrator will be chosen by the archbishop of the province, Most Rev. William H. Moeller, of Cincinnati.

WILLIAM D. KILPATRICK ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Addresses 600 at the Marion Theater Sunday Evening.

IS INTRODUCED BY LANDY F. SHOOTS, FIRST READER

Detroit Man Speaks on Subject, "Christian Science, God's Law"—Address in Part.

"Christian Science, God's Law" was the subject of a lecture delivered Sunday evening by William D Kilpatrick, of Detroit, to an audience of 600 persons, at the Marion theater

The speaker was introduced by Landy F. Shoots, first reader of the local church.

Mr. Kilpatrick said in part:

"Christian Science has come to humanity to restore to it the lost art of healing which the great Master-Christian, Jesus the Christ, declared should exemplify the understanding of those truths of existence which he gave to the world some twenty centuries ago. One can hardly read the New Testament without a firm conviction that much of the vitality given it by the life and works of Jesus has been lost or eliminated throughout the intervening centuries. Jesus taught that it was his understanding of God and God's government of His universe which enabled him to do the works of healing and regeneration he so freely accomplished throughout His brief ministry and of which he said in no unmistakable terms, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also."

"Jesus' mission on earth was to establish with men that understanding of God which would enable them to do the very works that he did.

Works of Healing.

"Jesus taught that his works of healing and regeneration were not of a miraculous nature but were indigenous to the correct understanding of God which he came to give us. Jesus came to establish the kingdom of heaven on earth for all mankind throughout all time—for you and for me, right here and now. In that mighty prayer, given us in his Sermon on the Mount, we find these words: 'Thy kingdom come. They will be done in earth as it is in heaven.' That which enabled the disciples of Jesus' time to heal the sick, cast out demons and even raise the dead was intended for you and for me just as much as for the disciples, otherwise the marvelous works and teachings of Jesus are of no avail as our Savior. There is nothing in the Bible and in the teachings and works of the Master to excuse us in the least for not healing the sick by prayer and spiritual means in accord with the commands of Jesus.

Explicit Command.

"In the sixteenth chapter of St. Mark's gospel Jesus gave this explicit command to all mankind, through the medium of his disciples—These signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink and deadly thing it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover. And is it not a glorious thing to know that at last we have been awakened, through Christian Science, to the recognition of the fact that that command was for you and for me, and that we have been given, through Christian Science, that understanding of Jesus' teachings which makes the fulfillment of this command a present and immediate possibility, and that you and I may know enough right here and now to assist in establishing the kingdom of heaven on earth?

"If you will carefully follow the life of Jesus as given in the New Testament and consider his works in connection with what he taught you will discover that what he did was merely to establish as a demonstratable fact what he taught, and that what he did was merely to establish as a demonstrable fact what he taught, and that what he taught and did were said and done in accord with and in explanation of, some immutable ever present, universal law. You will see, in other words, that his words and works were looking to the establishment with men of a divine, omnipotent, spiritual law which will eventually rule all mankind to the complete extinction of any so-called opposed law and its effects.

Knowledge and Application.

"And this Law of God—this Law the knowledge and application of which Jesus said should make us free—is what Christian Science has come to re-establish with me. Those wonderful works of Jesus prove conclusively that laws of matter are not God's Laws and that God's Laws are not only superior but are actually laws of annihilation to so-called material laws and thereby prove that material laws are the product of a mortal misconception of what constitutes true law.

"We find, with reassurance, that this Law of God is a law of Life—not of death: a law of health—not of sickness; a law of abundance—not of lack and limitation: a law of harmony—not of discord; a law of peace—not of strife; a law of love—not of hate. And oh! if we could but comprehend what this law of love embraces. How sadly this old world needs love, the love that Jesus gave to the world and of which the apostle spake when he said "Love is the fulfilling of the law." What a ministry of love was that of Jesus. Could aught be compared to that love which endured, without murmuring, the world's hatred and scorn that you and I might understand that the Law of God is omnipotent and omnipresent; that we might know that there are no material conditions over which this Law of God has not all power. It was this love expressed through Jesus which enabled him to prove that there is no death, and whereby he emerged from the tomb to perpetuate throughout the ages man's inalienable right to life eternal." Writing of this experience of Jesus, Mary Baker Eddy the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, says of page forty-four of her book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:"

Lonely Precincts.

"The lonely precincts of the tomb gave Jesus a refuge from his foes, a place in which to solve the great problem of being. His three days' work in the sepulchre set the seal of eternity on time. He proved Life to be deathless and Love to be the master of hate.

And now the question of how to bring into action this ever-present law of God, how to apply it to our present needs, how to heal the sick comfort the sorrowing and save the sinner, as Jesus did, naturally presents itself. This, my friends, is accomplished in Christian Science solely through the prayer of understanding. Christian Scientists have learned that whatever is to be achieved in the way of healing and saving must be done through such prayer, and that this prayer must be without ceasing.

"Our Every Thought."

"Our every thought, inclination and deed must be the outcome of a constant mental attitude of prayer if we would follow the Master in the way of his appointing. A Christian Scientist soon learns that in bringing to the world those blessings of God's Law and Jesus so clearly exemplified we do not have to compel the operation of God's Law, we simply have to let it do its work, or rather, let the work this Law has already accomplished for man, be manifested to us. The purpose of true prayer is one of elimination rather than one of compulsion or persuasion—the elimination, through spiritualization of consciousness, of that which St. Paul characterized as the carnal mind, the mortal mind, thus allowing that mind to be manifested in us "which was also in Christ Jesus."

"Mrs. Eddy has incorporated the fundamental teachings of Christian Science in her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture." This is the textbook of the Christian Science denomination. Through its study the secrets and obscurities of Holy Writ have been made plain and instead of a book of mystery the Bible has come to be the chart of life to thousands upon thousands to whom it has heretofore been closed."

"Get The Cash Habit"

So Soft, so Slim, so Pretty—are These New Silken Petticoats

They could almost be drawn through Milady's ring.

Just enough of them for protection and with no unnecessary gathers or fullness. The fabrics of which they are made (fine silk jersey, soft satins and taffetas) are decorative in the extreme, just what every new Spring outfit needs to be complete.

Special at $4.98

Our regular $6.50 grades reduced for a one day's selling. Included are all silk jersey petticoats in black, taupe, grays and bright colored ones—green, rose, henna, etc. Narrow plaited flounces in parti-colored effects are much in evidence.

Beautiful Ones at $8.50

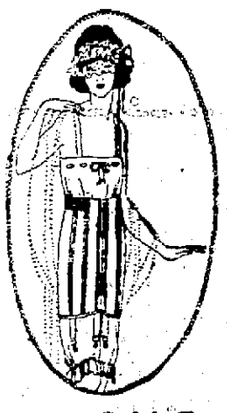
Of finest silk jerseys, fine satins and taffetas in all the bright and sombre colors. The flounces are in many styles, all decorative in the extreme.

Sateen Pettibockers, $1.25

Made of durable fabric in all colors—browns, blues, greens, rose, navy, black, etc. They're the cuff knee styles shirred over three elastic bands and can be adjusted for wear above or below the knee. Now only $1.25 pair.

To Insure a Pretty Figure In Later Years

—it is vital that the Junior Misses' Corsets should be chosen very carefully at this time.



WE carry a fine line of corsets for girls of this age, whatever may be their requirements. The bonings are light but effective, the supporters are correctly placed, and the fabrics include all kinds from the light but durable coutils and batiste to fancy brocades and satins. Frolascte, Meritos, Treo Girdles and many other good kinds are priced from—

$1.79 up to $5.00

Our corsetiere is skilled in the art of fitting corsets to the junior misses. Her services in helping to select the proper models is, of course, free.

Odd Corsets Half Price!

Discontinued models and broken size ranges—all in high-grade models formerly priced $5.00 to $8.50. There's models for all types but not all sizes in each style. Made of best pink brocades.

Odd Brassieres Choice $1.00

This price brings most of these down to less than half price. All are handsome models in lace and embroidery. Some are reduced because of their being slightly soiled by display. There's some in each size.

Of Course, if This Store Never Held Sales—

Marion folks woud never have the chance to buy needed things at bargain prices like these. These prices are much less than today's regular prices—and they're for Tuesday only.

$3.00 BLANKETS, $1.98 PR.—Three dollars is today's price. These are large size check blankets, all first quality. There are thirty pair in this lot.

WOMEN'S NIGHT GOWNS, 59c EA.—You couldn't buy the materials for that price. The yokes and sleeves are of outings—the balance of fine cambric.

FINE QUILTED BATTS, 89c EA.—Batts that weigh full three pounds and are in the full 72x90 inch comfort size. Of course, we will deliver them.

WOMEN'S OUTING GOWNS, $1.19—not the usual skimpy gowns usually sold at this price. But well made, "roomy" gowns, fashioned of best outing, nicely trimmed.

BATH TOWELS, 49c EA.—very large and very heavy and have the soft and highly absorbent finish that makes them a delight to use.

MARQUISETTE CURTAINS, $1.39 PR.—they're in white only, 2½ yards long and are made plain with only hemstitched hems. Only twenty pairs in the lot.

Never Comes the Spring Without an Enlivened Interest in Suits!

This year proves no exception as the interest at this early date is of greater volume than ever before.

THERE'S many reasons for this unusual amount of interest so early in the season, the chiefest of which are the lower prices and the unusual beauty of the styles which Dame Fashion has approved for the coming Spring season.

The youthful styles showing jackets in the short box models, flare back models and semi-tailored styles are indeed interesting as are the various trimmings—sashes, girdles, braid, embroidery and bead work that make these garments so distinctive and much to be desired.

This Season's Popular Prices Range from $25 to $50

With very wide selections at $32.50, $35, $39.75 and $45. These prices make it possible for every woman to possess the suit she wants. Here's a large assortment now ready with new ones arriving almost a dozen times a day. Easter comes early this season—March 27th.

RELIGION MORE THAN A PINK-TEA AFFAIR

One Can't Check It on Leaving the Church, Either.

AS THINGS ARE CHECKED IN A DEPARTMENT STORE

Rev. Father Tiedemann Declares Sunday in Opening Mission at St. Paul's Church.

Rev. Father Tiedemann, of the Order of the Holy Cross, delivered two sermons Sunday at the opening of a week's mission at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. Father Tiedemann's Sunday evening sermon, on "Checking One's Religion," follows in part:

"The other day I was passing through a big department store in one of our big cities and heard a little boy of four talking to his mother. 'Mama,' he said, 'are you going to check me today?' This question rather astonished me and I made inquiries. I found that a mother who wanted to be free for an afternoon could come down to this store, check her baby, and be able to spend several hours at the movies. Comment seems unnecessary as to this method of motherling children!

"There are some people who think they can check their religion! They come to church for an hour in the morning on Sunday, and, as they leave, check their religion at the door. Comment seems unnecessary as to this method of having a religion! This mission is to teach us that our religion is to be something more than a pink-tea, cozy corner, spineless affair of an hour on Sunday morning, but a power in our lives during the whole week. Let us begin at the beginning and see just what our religion means. And here let me utter my challange.

Convinced of the Truth.

"I have never yet found any one who when they once knew what our religion was about, when all the prejudices and misunderstandings were cleared away, was not convinced of its truth. Can you find any such unbeliever?

"Let us begin at the beginning, and put first things first. The beginning of our religion—as is indeed the end and all other parts thereof—is the reality of the God-man, Christ Jesus and His love for us. Jesus was not a dream man, He was real flesh and blood just like you and me except that He never sinned, for He is God, and God can not sin. He was a real human Baby, though He was God from the instant of His conception in His Mother's womb. He was a very beautiful Baby. Is not God always beautiful? But His Humanity was also beautiful. When the women of Bethlehem were all tired out with the day's work and discouraged with their trials and temptations, they would say one to the other: 'Come, let us go and look upon the face of Mary's Child.' To you, in your trials and worries and temptations, I say: 'Come and look upon the Face of Mary's Child.' Will you come? His Boyhood was very beautiful. I like to think of the Lord Jesus laughing. His laughter was so lovely, just like the ringing of silver bells. It was the laughter of innocence, for He never sinned. He never was disobedient, as you and I are disobedient and sinful. Come to Jesus and be made innocent and pure once more."

MRS. EVANS FINLEY DIES AT HOME OF HER BROTHER

Death Due to Paraysis—Funeral Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Finley, who was brought here from her home at Milford Center January 18, after having suffered a stroke of paralysis January 5, died at the home of her brother, W. M. Watson, No. 148 Glad street, Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. She had been ill for several years.

Mrs. Finley was born in Union county in 1848, and was seventy-five years of age. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Watson and was married July 6, 1876, at Marysville to Evans Finley, who preceded her in death. She is survived only by her brother. Mrs Finley was a member of the Baptist church.

The funeral will be held at Milford Center Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and burial will be made in the cemetery there.

MRS. SUSAN WARNER IS DEAD AT EIGHTY-FIVE

Funeral This Afternoon, Rev. J. W. Henry Officiating.

Mrs. Susan Warner, of Toledo, died from stomach trouble due to gastric ulcer at the home of her niece, Mrs. L. M. Belander, No. 203 east George street, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. She was eighty-five years of age and had been ill the past three months.

Mrs. Warner was born October 31, 1835, in Canton, and had been a resident of Toledo, fifty years. She is survived by one son and three daughters, Mason Warner, of Chicago; Mrs. E. Coughanour, of Cleveland; Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Gresham, and Mrs. C. G. Moss, of New Orleans, and one brother and two sisters, Mrs Sarah Lose and Charles Uhl, of Tiffin, and Mrs. Rebakah McDonald, of No. 268 east George street.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Belander residence, Rev. J. W. Henry officiating. Interment will be made in the Marion cemetery.

The Faith that Builds Railroads

MANY New York Central stockholders own only one or two shares—a savings nest-egg. But the holder of a few shares of stock has the same satisfaction as the larger investor of taking part in the development of an important public service while providing an income for himself.

In his classic study of "Lombard Street," Walter Bagehot, the brilliant English economist, asserted that a citizen of London of Queen Elizabeth's time would have thought it no use inventing railways because he would have been unable to conceive the possibility of collecting the vast sums of capital needed for their construction.

Even Bagehot, writing only fifty years ago, probably would have been amazed by the thought of attracting the capital needed for the building and development of a thirteen-thousand-mile railroad system like the New York Central.

Now nearing a century of public service, the New York Central Lines represent a property investment of $1,720,000,000. Against this investment stocks and bonds have been issued to the amount of $1,543,000,000—that is, the actual value of the property is greatly in excess of the outstanding securities.

Scattered throughout the United States and in many foreign countries are more than 120,000 individual investors and institutions who have become partners in this great enterprise.

The number of owners of the stock of the New York Central Railroad Company, the parent company of the system, has increased by forty per cent in the past four years.

The growth of railroad facilities, to keep pace with the ever-increasing demands of American industry, depends upon a continuance of this public faith in railroads as investments, which is so strikingly shown by the widespread ownership of New York Central securities.

It is evident that Grover Bergdoll doesn't take any stock in the view that Germany plans another war.

Amid all these appeals for "humanity," it should not be overlooked that we have a fair proportion of humanity on this side of the Atlantic.

Still, the Russians who have been able to survive the Lenine regime shouldn't seriously worry over typhus.

"I may be decidedly obtuse," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "but I never have been able to understand why the people who want to save daylight can't get up an hour earlier without tinkering with the clocks."

Judging by the number of self-constituted reformers on the job, cutting out the booze did little, if anything, to better the condition of mankind in that regard.

A Rhode Island man claims to know how to kill off dandelions without injuring a lawn. The plan may be all right, but to some it will appear as a bit of the "nefarious dry propaganda."

Anyway, eggs appear to have gotten back under the operation of the law of supply and demand, and sugar has shown a decided inclination that way. Let's cheer up!

Why should Great Britain, France and Italy waste time in trying to reach an agreement regarding what Germany must pay by way of reparation, when the league of nations is so conveniently at hand to handle the matter for them?

So Kingdon Gould has settled that half-a-million-dollar breach-of-promise suit for $90,000. You never heard of a paragrapher burning up money like that.

What a difference there is in sports! The country was shocked over the discovery that there was crookedness in the 1919 world's series, but in the wrestling game nothing less than an absolutely square match would make the country sit up and take notice.

The cry for a reappraisement of realty continues to go up from many parts of Ohio. Is a general reappraisement sought, or simply one on city really like that played off on Marion the last time?

An exchange tells us that Great Britain owes 47,171 tons of gold, and that it would take her 131 years to square up if she paid off a ton a day. If we were in that fix it would be mighty hard for us to escape the feeling that we were broke.

HAS SEEN THE LIGHT.

Former Governor Sidney J. Catts, of Florida, is out for protection good and plenty, and none may say him nay. So long as the Republicans remain in power he intends to devote his life to the protection of southern products. Said he at the convention of the Southern Tariff association in Atlanta recently:

"If there is to be a protective tariff bill at all, the country should have one that will protect every section and not one that would benefit one and hurt the other."

Mr. Catts must have had visions of Republican reprisals because the Democratic law placed northern and western products on the free list and protected southern goods, but he need have no fear on that score. "The effect of a non-protective tariff on southern products was already being felt in Florida," said he, "especially on citrus fruits and Irish potatoes, two of the principal products of Florida which were being imported into the state free of duty and sold cheaper than the Florida growers could raise them."

For years Mr. Catts was a supporter of the free trade party, but there is a great light dawning in his neck of the woods and the Florida cracker has become a "you-need-a" when he discusses with his neighbor the subject of protection.

"We Won't Get Cold With This One!"

A NATION IN IDLENESS.

Advocates of the soviet system of government which has been in power in Russia for almost four years assert that the world does not understand the principles underlying the rule which the Bolshevists have imposed upon Russia and which propagandists seek to extend into other countries; that it is ignorance which denies recognition of the red theories.

Deceptions on the part of the soviet leaders have kept the world from learning the truth about conditions in Russia, but enough information has come out of that country to let other nations know that, no matter what may be claimed for the soviet system of government in theory, it is bringing ruin to Russia in practice.

It is not necessary to base this belief upon statements made by opponents of the Bolshevist creed. It is upheld by information furnished by persons who have gone to Russia with a prejudice in favor of the soviet plan. These envoys have almost without exception either condemned the system, or have been unwilling to attempt to defend it.

The Russian army was maintained more because plenty of food was guaranteed to the soldiers, and it was no more of a risk to enter the army than it was to work without the prospect of getting anything more than a mere living. The result of the Bolshevist theory in practice is that Russia is not producing enough food for her own people, in spite of her great natural resources. The people, having no incentive to create values for themselves, are failing even to do enough to sustain themselves.

Russia today is a nation of 150,000,000 people in voluntary idleness.

How little one hears, these days, about article X.

THE BANKRUPTCY OF NATIONS.

The aftermath of the world war finds nearly all the nations of Europe in a deplorable condition, financially and morally. The expenditure of men and money has almost ruined the nations of continental Europe, and economic disaster is well-nigh complete.

France is making a brave effort to meet her obligations in the payment of interest, but the debt is so great that it is doubtful if an indefinite moratorium, or suspension of payments on the national debt, can be avoided. The German government declares that the nation is bankrupt.

Great Britain, with her vast resources, finds herself financially handicapped by the shrinkage in the value of the pound sterling, and the people are taxed practically to the limit. Italy is hanging on more with hope than with confidence that financial disaster may be averted.

Not only did the nations of Europe contract immense debts to carry on the war, but great amounts of currency, without the backing of gold, were issued to meet domestic obligations. This currency has depreciated so much that the people themselves have little confidence in it, and it is practically worthless in transactions with other nations.

Production and markets constitute the salvation of Europe. Cheap currency must be retired from circulation by the millions, and the peoples must show by their productive industry that their credit is worthy of confidence.

THE EASIEST WAY.

The easiest way for the average man to pay his income tax is to pay it promptly. That may take a load from the pocketbook, but it also takes a load from the mind. Let those who must write the big checks fret throughout the year over their quarterly installments. Wisdom urges the average man to get through with his taxpaying as early as possible.

Prompt paying is also more convenient. The collectors and advisers are less rushed and have opportunity to give more careful attention to queries. These are very homely thoughts concerning a matter of very common experience. But these common experiences weigh heavily in the total of life's comforts and discomforts.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

(By James Hall Naylor)

ASPIRATIONS.

Have aspirations; and attempt to realize upon them.

"Not failure but low aim, is crime," some one has said.

That's true.

Aim high; but be careful not to overshoot the mark.

Aim at the target—not at the blue sky overhead.

"Hitch your wagon to a star," Emerson has advised.

All right, perhaps.

But don't hitch your wheelbarrow to the swishing tail of a comet; don't hitch your push-cart to a will-o'-the-wisp.

Have aspirations, yes—reasonable, common-sensical aspirations; and do your best to realize upon them.

But don't get discouraged and disgruntled if you don't accomplish all you desire to accomplish, all you plan to accomplish.

Mrs. Browning was a keen observer of human affairs, a shrewd student of human nature. She fully appreciated the beauties and opportunities of those around her. And once she expressed her feelings thus:

"Earth's crammed with heaven,
And every common bush afire with God;
But only he who sees takes off his shoes—
The rest sit 'round and pluck blackberries!"

And some haven't energy enough to cause them to pick blackberries, even.

Some work, yes; but they work as the draft horse works.

Some root and grunt—as the hog roots and grunts.

Some are merely clods among the clods—of the earth, earthy.

They have no aspirations.

They discover no opportunities.

They're blind; so they see not.

They're deaf; so they hear not.

Opportunities!

They're all around us.

John J. Ingalls, in his immortal lines, made opportunity say:

"Master of human destinies am I.
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait;
Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote; and, passing by
Hovel, and mart, and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate!
If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before
I turn away."

Stop—look—listen! Keep your eyes open; keep your ears alert. Opportunity is on the way—is approaching your door. She'll knock—not just once, probably—but a number of times. She may return, even—and knock again and yet again. She has something to offer you—something in keeping with your aspirations, your tastes, your abilities and your qualifications. Open the door unto her. Don't send her away sick of soul at the sights she sees and the sounds she hears through the keyhole of your door.

Wake up—swing wide the door—and bid her welcome!

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

England's Princess Mary is an ardent devotee of the "movies."

Mongolian women wear splotches of rouge on their cheecks to denote their ranks.

Over ten times as many widows under twenty-five years of age remarried in England last year as in 1911.

Smoking is ruining the teeth of American women and girls, says Dr. Josephine Pfeiffer, Chicago dentist.

Wiley, Kansas, boasts of a four-year-old miss who weighs 100 pounds and measures forty inches around the waist.

Under a law dating back several centuries and still in force, no woman is permitted to enter the Paris bourse.

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president, has declared herself in favor of women retaining their own names, whether married or single.

Miss Gladys Alberta MacDonald is official messenger of the Maine supreme court, and wears the official badge of office with grace and dignity.

Employment agents in many of the larger American cities report that lack of work has caused many girl stenographers and clerks to turn to domestic service.

The oldest police matron in the United States in point of service is Mrs. Fannie Hines, who has served in that capacity with the Detroit police department for over a quarter of a century.

Mrs. Maud Ballinger Booth, the celebrated leader of the Volunteers of America, has the distinction of being the first woman ever licensed to speak from the chancel of Trinity cathedral in Omaha at the regular evening service.

There may be nothing phenomenal about a woman selling forest products, but it is an interesting fact nevertheless that Miss Sarah M Roberts, of Toledo, Ohio, is the only woman in America who is in sole charge of the wholesale department of a big lumber company.

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt is the new president of the North Carolina Agricultural society, which conducts the annual state fair at Raleigh. In her new capacity, Mrs. Vanderbilt recently spoke before the North Carolina general assembly—the first address she had ever delivered in public—and was given an enthusiastic reception by the lawmakers.

Surely a champion among the absent-minded is the young woman of Pittsburgh, who recently caused a sensation in a large store there. Apparently fully dressed in the height of fashion, and wearing a rich fur coat, this young woman went into the store and began her shopping. The place was warm, and her fur coat made her uncomfortable, so she unfastened it and threw it open. It was then seen that she had forgotten to put on a dress. An assistant called her attention to the fact and she dropped unconscious.

It has only recently been made public that during the late war the crown jewels of England, as a measure of safety, were temporarily removed from the Tower of London, where they have been kept for two years, to Windsor castle.

The gallery of a theatre is called the "gods" because the ceiling of old Drury Lane theater in London used to be painted to represent a fleecy blue sky with flying Cupids. And this picture of the gods extended right over the gallery.

A pearl-fisher in Torres straits once found a cluster of pearls in the shape of a perfect cross. This cluster, after passing through the hands of several dealers, was eventually sold to some wealthy Roman Catholics for presentation to the Pope, the sum paid being $50,000.

The "three balls," recognized the world over as the sign of the pawnbroker, was adapted from the coat-of-arms of the Medici family, who were the first to make money-lending a professoin. Incidentally, the Medici family is further perpetuated through the word "medicine," a tribute to the skill of the members of this house in the art of healing.

FUNERALS

Schillinger Funeral.

The funeral of Rev. Sylvanus Schillinger was held at Emanuel's Lutheran church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following short services at the home of the son, Rev. J. W. Schillinger, of Cherry street, at 2 o'clock. The services were largely attended.

The sermon was preached by Dr. L. H. Schuh, of Toledo, a friend of the Schillinger family, and the altar services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Burtram, of Bucyrus. Quite a number of ministers from surrounding Lutheran churches were in attendance.

The body was taken to Canal Winchester this morning and another service was held there this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Theopolis Mees, of the Capital university, Columbus, and the pastor of the church, Rev. W. A. Poovy.

Buried at Lima.

The funeral of James M. Bailey, brother of Dr. D. H. aBiley, former pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, but now of Kenton, was held at Lima Saturday.

Mr. Bailey died Friday at the age of seventy years. He was a retired farmer.

Forfeits Game.

The Power Manufacturing five forfeited to the Marion Steam Shovel basket-ball team Saturday evening, failing to put in an appearance at the Y. M. C. A. gym.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

They Exchange Pulpits.

Rev. Thomas Watkins, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Delaware, spoke at the First Presbyterian church here last evening on "The Welsh revival services." Dr. Watkins is a native of Wales and has had some thrilling experiences in connection with these services, which stirred the religious world a few years ago. Dr. L. L. Strock spoke at the First Presbyterian church at Delaware last evening.

At Wesley M. E. Church.

Dr. J. D. Darling preached to large audiences at both the morning and evening services Sunday at Wesley M. E. church. The subject of the morning service was "Jesus Christ As a Convenient Luxury or as a Necessity." In the evening the pastor spoke on "He Is Able To Save Unto the Uttermost."

Sunshine Class.

Melvin Minshall entertained the members of the Sunshine class, of the Forest Lawn church, Saturday afternoon, at his home on Lincoln avenue. In a contest the award was given to John Edward McWhertier. Refreshments and favors were in keeping with St. Valentine's day.

At Forest Lawn Church.

All exercises at Forest Lawn church were well attended Sunday and especially in the Sabbath school, where there was an attendance of 191 persons, an increase of more than 100 in the past six months. The pastor, Rev. J. B. Brice, took for the subject of his morning sermon, "Remember Thy Creator in the Days of Thy Youth."

"I Will Arise and Go to My Father," was the subject of Rev. Mr. Brice's evening sermon, delivered to a large audience. Miss Mae Nuben sang a solo, "Count Your Blessings," and the choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light." Ralph Kinney sang "The Penitent," and Mrs. J. W. McNeal sang "Why Not Now?" Twenty persons were received into the church at yesterday's services. The meetings will continue throughout the week and next Sunday evening the new members will be received into the church and the ordnance of the Lord's Supper observed.

Trinity Baptist Church.

"Lincoln" day was observed Sunday morning at the Trinity Baptist church. Dr. Powell taking as his keynote, the saving of Mr. Lincoln when he was president: "All that I am and all that I hope to be, I owe to my mother." And yet that mother died when her son was only nine years old. "This well proves," said Dr. Powell, "the words of T. Dewitt Talmage: 'If a boy were to start to run at nine years, and run right on by night and by day, until he was seventy years old, he could never get out of the shadow of his boyhood home.'"

The Sororities of Trinity church will give a unique entertainment at the church Friday evening to which all are invited.

Sunday at Calvary Church.

The special revival services at Calvary church attracted large crowds at every service Sunday. The attendance at the Sunday school session and at the morning service was the largest on record for many months, and the evening record overflowed the large auditorium. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen preached on the theme, "What Shall It Profit a Man?" The choir furnished a special number and Mr Reep sang "The Pearly White City." In the evening the pastor again preached, his theme being "The Lost Christ." Special music was rendered by the Men's chorus, the chorus choir, a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Reep, and Mr. Reep sang as a solo, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells for You and Me." There will be services each evening this week, except Saturday, 7:30 o'clock.

At Spiritualist Church.

Meetings were held both afternoon and evening Sunday at the First Spiritualist church on north Main street. In the afternoon Mrs. M. B. Miller, of Columbus, and Mrs. T. B. Crum, of Marion, gave messages and in the evening Mrs. Miller spoke on "Abraham Lincoln."

At Fite Memorial Church.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. F. E. Hawes, Sunday, O. H. Carver, Y. M. C. A. secretary, gave an interesting address at the morning service.

Rev. James Hablins, regional field representative of the Moody Bible institute, occupied the pulpit in the evening and preached on "The Face of Jesus." There were two conversion at this service.

There will be a baptismal service Wednesday evening.

Light Bearer Class.

Dorothy Bauer was hostess to the members of the Light Bearer class, of the Church of the Brethren, Saturday afternoon, at her home on Franconia avenue. Games were enjoyed.

Bellefontaine Avenue Mission.

Sunday services at the Bellefontaine avenue mission were well attended and were in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. W. Ruhlman. Evangelistic services were conducted during the evening, two persons going forward.

Rev. P. L. Caldwell, of Upper Sandusky, presiding elder will be present at the morning services next Sunday and will have charge of the second quarterly communion services. The evangelistic services in the evening will be in charge of Fred Brading.

Goes to Fostoria.

Rev. C. W. Ruhlman, pastor of the Bellefontaine avenue mission, today left for Fostoria, where he will assist in a two-weeks evangelistic meeting.

ST. MARY'S MISSION IS OPENED HERE SUNDAY

First Week Is for the Women, Father Rafferty Declares.

BECAUSE THEY'RE GOOD ADVERTISERS, HE SAYS

Second Week Is for the Men. Franciscan Priests Conducting the Services.

Rev. Father Isadore Rafferty formally opened a two-weeks mission at St. Mary's Catholic church following 10-o'clock mass Sunday morning with announcements of the purpose of the mission, the schedule of services and the statement that the first week would be for women and the second week for men. Father Rafferty and Father Friedlin Stauble, Franciscan priests, are conducting the mission.

"The mission is for the good, the lukewarm and the sinners," Father Rafferty said. "All need its graces and I will guarantee that all who make the mission will, at its conclusion wish that it would continue longer."

In announcing that the exercises the first week would be for women, Father Rafferty said the missionaries like to devote the first week to the women, "because they are good advertisers." "It is through the women," he continued, "that the fathers, brothers and husbands are encouraged to make the mission during the second week." He asked the assistance of all in encouraging others to make the mission and in this way to become missionaries themselves.

Mission Masses.

Mission masses will be at 5 and 8 o'clock each morning, with an instruction at each. It was announced that the instruction at 5 o'clock mass will be brief and the services will not last more than forty-five minutes. At 8 o'clock the instruction and mass will last about an hour. At 3 o'clock each afternoon there will be the stations of the cross and each evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be the rosary, instruction, sermon and benediction.

The children's mission began Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services for them were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock and this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There will be children's exercises tomorrow at the same hours and this program for the children's mission will be repeated next week.

Rev. Father Stauble delivered the first sermon of the mission Sunday evening at St. Mary's church taking for his theme the sixteenth verse of the sixteenth chapter of St. Matthew. "Lord what doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world if he lose his own soul for what exchange shall a man give for his soul." Father Stauble said in part:

Truth and the Light.

"There are words which came down into this world to be the way the truth and the light. These words convey a special message to each one of us for they carry the message of God's love and grace, they tell us that we are not made for this world and not the body has a claim on us but a better world.

"Your God would give you to understand that there is only one thing which should concern you for He Himself has said 'Save your soul.'

"What is Salvation? God alone knows the full meaning of the word Salvation and God alone knows what it means for a soul to be happy with Him in Eternity. Beneath the cross of Jesus Christ is written in letters of blood the value of your soul, the value of my soul. Could Jesus Christ have done more for you than shed his blood that you might be saved?"

Preceding the sermon Father Rafferty instructed the congregation in the "Way of the Cross."

A Valentine Party.

The C. W. club held a valentine party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Jane Taylor, on Nye street, and a pleasant time was passed with games, music, cards and dancing. Two contests were held, the honors going to Mrs. Cloyd Latimore, Mr. Homer Place and Mrs. William Laughman.

MRS. H. O. PETERS, of Kansas City, Mo., whose experience with Tanlac has been nothing less than wonderful, declares her husband. After her improvement he takes it himself and his health is also restored.

"One day a friend persuaded my wife to take Tanlac and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. Her troubles have not only entirely disappeared, but she has actually gained twenty pounds in weight and now seems to be in perfect health. She has suffered for eight years with headaches, nervousness and loss of appetite and was in a badly run-down condition. She could not eat much, had pains all through her body and limbs and was so weak at times she could hardly stand on her feet. She was losing weight and gradually getting worse all the time in spite of all we could do.

"After seeing the splendid results my wife was getting I began taking Tanlac myself and before I had finished my second bottle, I was eating things I had not dared touch before in a long time. I suffered for five years with the worst kind of stomach trouble and nervous indigestion, but it has relieved me entirely. We both owe Tanlac a great debt of gratitude."

The above enthusiastic statement was made recently by Herbert O. Peters, well-known citizen of Kansas City, Missouri, residing at 534 Walnut street.

Tanlac is sold in Marion by The Dumble Pharmacy, in LaRue by Sifritt's Pharmacy and in Waldo by Apt Pharmacy.—Adv.

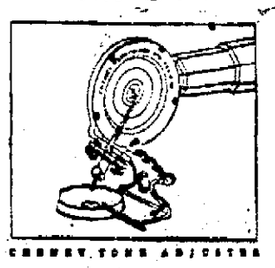
What Seat do you Prefer at the Opera?



CHENEY TONE ADJUSTER

When you sit close to the stage you hear the music in its full volume. As you move away, you lose none of its beauty, richness and expression—it is just as clear, but its intensity is softened.

You will secure the same effect with the tone control of THE CHENEY. You can enjoy each selection exactly as you would most prefer to hear it in the theatre. Because of this wonderful advantage, THE CHENEY is the perfect instrument for bringing grand opera, lighter opera and all music into your home.

Let us show you how THE CHENEY's reproducer, the tone arm, acoustic throat, orchestral chambers and violin resonator also increase the charm of its music. If you cannot call, send the coupon for the interesting CHENEY booklet.

Twelve Volumes of Tone in THE CHENEY

At the very point where the tone originates, it is controlled in volume by regulating the intensity. Before you hear a note you can set THE CHENEY automatically to play exactly as you wish, by means of the needle adjuster and four discs of Cheney needles.

Please send me without obligation your beautifully illustrated 32-page CHENEY booklet

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

Edith was not getting along with the furnace drafts at all well. Our hosen told us that as we descended he stairs to the main floor, through which came the acrid tang of smoke. Little smokes wases were eddying up through the registers in the floor and walls, and as we came to the basement door we heard Edith coughing and frantically rattling at some part of the furnace merhaut in.

"Oh, the poor girl!" I exclaimed. "Let me hurry."

I dashed past Lillian and down the stairs to where Edith was helplessly searching for the right draft to turn. I saw in a second what the matter was. There was a certain draft in the pipe which she had turned in just the opposite direction to the one in which it was meant to go. Without stopping to speak, I reached over her shoulder and turned the draft correctly, opened the furnace door, and saw that with the proper draft little tongues of flame were reaching toward the coal, and that the smoke was being drawn up the chimney. Then I put a hand on Edith's arm.

"Let's hurry out of this," I gasped.

She held back gamely.

"The furnace is it – all– right?" Every word was punctuated by a strangling cough.

"Absolutely. But you won't be if you don't get out of this."

She came with me then unresistingly, and we were met at the top of the stairs with a most reviving rush of cold, fresh air. Lillian, with characteristic presence of mind, had wasted no time following me into the basement, but had flown through the rooms, opening all of the windows and doors, and creating a suction draft directly through the house. As we came out into the dining room she met us with glasses of water, which we gratefully took from her.

"Where did you get water in this time?" I asked in amazement when I could speak.

"From the faucets in the kitchen. You mean—"

"That whoever was here last night must have turned the water on. Jim was instructed to turn the water off the last thing before he and Katie went away on their vacation, and I am sure he did so, for he is most methodical and reliable."

"If there was anything your visitors forgot to do last night I'd like to see it," Lillian observed dryly, "How about the furnace—can you leave it now?"

"For five minutes or so," I replied. "Then there must be more coal put on."

"Don't you think, then, we'd better leave the windows open while we go over to Mrs. Burkee's?" Lillian asked practically.

"Longer than that," I returned. "My mother used to say that it was impossible to heat 'dead air.' She always used to let the outside air circulate for a long while after she started a fire in house that had not been used for some time."

"Your mother must have belonged to the same order of sensible housewives that mine did," Lillian commented. "Suppose we follow Edith."

The Virginia girl, who had really suffered from the smoke, was already out on the lawn between the Burkee place and ours—I had to keep reminding myself that the pronoun was no longer applicable to the house I had loved so well. She was still coughing, and as we caught up to her I saw with concern that her eyes were red and watery.

"I am so sorry you went down," I began contritely.

"I'm not!" she returned forcibly. "I'm only angry at myself to think how unconscionably stupid I was. I must have turned that draft in just the opposite direction."

"Well, I don't supose regulating furnace drafts in strange houses was any part of your school curriculum!" Lillian put in comfortingly. "How did you come to have it down so pat, Madge?"

"While Jim and Dicky were across seas I think I had a course in everything from frenzied finance to plain and fancy coal-carrying," I said, trying to speak lightly to cover not only my own dolour, but Edith's evident chagrin.

"Oh, of course!" Lillian assented. I think she meant to say something more, but it was smothered in Marion's frantic impetuous embrace. The child evidently had been watching for us, and had dashed toward us at her first glimpse of our advancing figures.

"I don't care, mother," she said, tremulously, dashing tears impatiently from her eyes. "I couldn't have stood it much longer. I would have had to disobey you and come after you."

Lillian stopped, put her hand under the child's chin, and tenderly tilted the flower-like face so that she could look down directly into her young daughter's eyes.

"You surely would not have disobeyed me, Marion," she said. "You couldn't be mother's right hand and do that."

The child dropped against her, then lifted her face for her mother's ready kiss.

"I suppose I wouldn't," she said tensely, "but it would have 'most killed me to do it."

"That is what life brings us sometimes, sweetheart," Lillian returned, "things to do that 'most kill us, but we must not be cowards."

And I, an involuntary listener, gave not for the first time my meed of admiration for the manner in which my friend was training the child she idolizes.

19 EGGS A DAY FROM 23 HENS, IN WINTER

Mr. Dunl's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got 4 to 5 eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 10 to 12 a day; in five weeks we got 15 eggs a day."—John Dunl, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Dunl started giving Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in winter when hens usually loaf. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a health tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Barrett-Fugger Co., 116 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

SWEAR OFF TOBACCO

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or for a chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead, to help relieve that awful desire. Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question. —Adv.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY'S VALENTINE.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]
[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"What have you there, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, as the muskrat lady housekeeper saw the bunny gentleman wrapping something up in pink paper and tying it with a blue string.

"Oh, nothing," answered Uncle Wiggily, careless like, as he chewed the end of the string off in his teeth. "Just nothing much at all."

"Hum! I guess I know nothing when I see it," spoke Nurse Jane with a little sniff. "However, if you don't want to tell me you needn't. I guess I can have a secret myself. I'm not going to tell you what you're going to have for lunch. So there!"

With that Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy hopped out of the hollow stump bungalow, and Uncle Wiggily felt a little sad. He didn't want Nurse Jane to think he'd keep a secret from her, but he just had to this time. For he was wrapping up her valentine and he didn't want her to know, you see.

"She pretty nearly saw what it was," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, as he hid the package in the top of his tall, silk hat. "But I don't believe she has quite guessed what it is, and when it gets dark I'll leave the valentine on the steps, ring the bell and run away."

It was Valentine day in animal land, and the boys and girls, from Sammie and Susie Littletail, the rabbits, to Dickie and Nellie Flipptail, the sparrows, had been sending valentines to each other. Now it was Uncle Wiggily's turn to send something to Nurse Jane. He had bought a lovely one at the five and eleven cent store, but Nurse Jane had almost caught him looking at it.

"Maybe she's waiting outside to try and see what I have when I come out," thought the bunny. "I'll fool her! I'll make a package almost like the one that has her valentine in, and if she asks about it I'll show that one to her. Then she won't think any more about valentines and when she gets the real one I have hidden in my hat—oh, how surprised she'll be!"

So the bunny gentleman took some things he found in the kitchen—some pepper, salt, cinnamon, mustard and baking powder—and he sprinkled a little of each of these in a paper and wrapped it up. He wrapped all these kitchen things up until the package looked just like his real valentine.

"Now to play a little joke on Nurse Jane," thought Mr. Longears.

Uncle Wiggily hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow, expecting to find Nurse Jane waiting for him near the steps. And he thought the muskrat lady would ask more questions. But Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy was not in sight.

"I guess she's just around the corner by the lollypop bush," thought Uncle Wiggily, holding the paper package in his paw.

So Mr. Longears hopped along a little father, and he was thinking what a nice joke he would play on Nurse Jane, and he was wondering how she would like the real valentine he had hidden in his hat when, all of a sudden, a voice asked:

He had taken a large mouthful.

"What have you there?"

"Ha!" thought the bunny. "That's Nurse Jane again, asking the same question she asked a while ago! I'll play a joke on her."

So, without turning his head to look around, the bunny gentleman held the package out behind him in his paw and said:

"You may open it if you like. You know I have no secrets from you!"

The package was taken from the bunny's paw. Still without looking around, he heard the paper torn open, and he was laughing to think how surprised Nurse Jane would be when she saw the salt, pepper, mustard and so on, when all of a sudden a voice cried:

"Oh, what's this! What sort of stuff are you giving me? Oh, how my tongue burns!"

Uncle Wiggily quickly turned around and there he saw the bad old Fox. The Fox had opened the make believe Valentine and, thinking it was something good to eat, he had taken a large mouthful. And of course you know what the salt, pepper, mustard and horseradish did to his tongue. Yes, indeed!

"Oh what a trick to play on me!" howled the Fox as he ran away to look for some ice water. "What a trick!"

"It serves you right for trying to fool me and make me think you were Nurse Jane, as I did think," said the bunny. Then he took Nurse Jane's pretty valentine, all lace, and gold and purple and red, and give it to his muskrat lady housekeeper, not waiting until night. And Nurse Jane laughed when she heard how the Fox burned his tongue. But she just loved her valentine.

So everything came out all right.

PUT FIGHTING QUALITIES IN YOUR BLOOD

If You Are Pale and Weak, Without Ambition, You Need a Tonic.

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Fights Off Disease and Keeps You Well and Enables You To Work with Pleasure.

Serious sickness often comes when you least suspect. You may feel a little over-tired. You haven't been exposed to contagion, yet all of a sudden you are flat on your back and in for a siege of sickness.

Your blood did not have fighting qualities. It was weak and thin. Your vitality and powers of resistance were low.

When you overdo you use up energy. Your blood is driven to do more than it can. It becomes clogged with waste. The waste acts like poison. Disease germs get in your blood and dominate.

Don't let yourself get run down. Take that good tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It makes rich, red blood that will resist and rout out disease germs.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. Both have the same effect.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.—Adv.

I AM A LUCKY WOMAN STATES MRS. A. M. BURRIS 205 SILVER ST., MARION O.

I Can Recommend Nuxite to Anyone, She Says.

Was Very Weak, Nervous and Had Stomach Trouble. Run Down System.

"I count myself lucky, after suffering 20 years, to get Nuxite," said Mrs. A. M. Burris, who lives at 205 Silver St., Marion, Ohio. Continuing, Mrs. Burris said she had suffered for 20 years with nervousness and stomach trouble, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath. Very nervous, easily excited, could not rest well at night, would toss and toss about in the bed, had that tired, sluggish and worn-out feeling, did not feel like doing her household duties, no energy or ambition to work, poor appetite, did not care to eat, had soreness around the heart. "Some few weeks ago, I was reading in the Marion papers about a medicine called Nuxite, that was being sold at Schmidt's drug store, so many people were getting such great results from. Some of the testimonials hit my trouble exactly, so I decided to give it a trial. I bought a bottle and after taking it, I can truthfully say I received great results and I am feeling much improved. My appetite is good, can eat most anything and it agrees with me. That tired and worn-out feeling is gone. I sleep fine every night. Don't have that bloating and gas on my stomach, full feeling across the eyes and dizziness has all disappeared. The soreness and palpitation of the heart is much improved. I feel stronger and better than for years. Nuxite surely will always get a good word from me. I never miss the opportunity of telling the people about it."

Nuxite is sold at Schmidt's drug store by W. R. Cooper, special representative.—Adv.

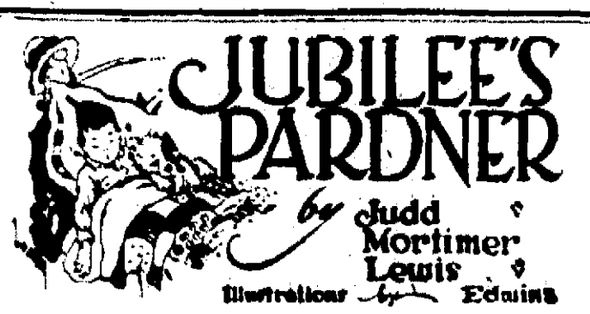
JUBILEE'S PARDNER



by Judd Mortimer Lewis

It ain't no joke to have a hole in the quilt of your bed and to have it getting bigger and bigger all the time. I expect that sleeping under a hole in the winter time is what makes you so tough. But I am tough enough now and I would ruther be warm for a while.

When I had milked the cow and her dotter and strained the milk and et and slid on the pond a little bit and we was all on our way to school, I seen Younias ahead of us with Maggie who got fascinated on her leg so it wouldn't show. She motioned to me, and when we got to the gate of the school yard she waited and all the bunch went in, and when I got up to her she said it was Valentine day and she had something for me, and I said right quick that I had something for her. And then she smiled and I grinned and she went in, and I did not have anything for her because I did not know it was Valentine day, and I got my gografy wrong and could not spell anything and had to stay after school.

When I got home and my grandfather was fixing up his fish hooks for spring and no one was around I asted him if he could lend me a half a dollar because it was Valentine day, and he said us men folks has to stick together where the ladies is concerned, and he gave me one, and I went to Sprotsky's store and looked over all the valentines and I got a good one of a little angel without any shirt or pants on, only a ribbon, and it was all made up of pink and blue shiny stuff, and you opened up a little heart and it said:

I got a good one of a little angel without any shirt or pants on.

"I love you if you love me.
Lock my heart and keep the key."

So I hid it out in the barn and when I had milked the cow and her dotter and gone to bed I slid out over Farrel's roof, and went over in the brickyard where the bunch was at, and we was all going out valentining, and I went and got mine and was showing it to them and they was all looking at it and Nibs was holding a match so that they could see it, and all of a sudden it was on fire and burning like everything, and it was gone before I knowed it.

I do not think anyone ever felt any better than I did. When I had got through chasing Nibs me and Jubilee was way out to the edge of town and we come back and I climb up over the roof and in the window and let the rope down and pulled him up by his teeth, and went to bed and wished that I would'nt wake up dead. Because I said I had something for her and I didn't. A fella doesn't have anything but trouble all the way from short pants to the end of his life. I will tell Younias how it happened but she will not believe me. I wouldn't if I was her.

WINTER BRED-SOW SALE!

Thursday, Feb. 17, 1921

Beginning at 1 p. m.

At Harpster, Ohio

Fowler's Big Type Chester Whites

10 Choice Sows, 40 bred to Fowler's "BIG BUSTER" and "PETROLEUM KING."

Fowler's Big Buster was Junior Champion at Wisconsin, Minnesota and La Crosse Fairs. He also won 2nd at the great National Swine Show at Des Moines, Iowa. The Chester White Journal fieldman purchased this boar for me after I had instructed him to buy the best boar that he could buy, regardless of price consideration—$1,000.

Petroleum King—the boar they all take off their hats to, sired by the great Petroleum Giant, who was eight times Grand Champion. Bigness with quality is what we have in Petroleum King.

A rare opportunity. Don't miss it. Let me send you my descriptive catalogue. A postal card will get you one.

LOCAL FAIR BOARD AGAIN BACKS JUVENILE CLUBS

Awards of $600 To Be Hung Up in Contests.

ALL FOR THE PURPOSE OF BETTER STOCK RAISING

Walter Postle Is Employed as Caretaker at the Fairground. Achievement Week.

Arrangements whereby Marion will, for the first time, be represented at "Achievement" week in Columbus this fall were made at a meeting of the Marion County Agricultural society and representatives of the various cattle and swine associations in the office of J. H. Eymon Saturday afternoon. Awards amounting to $600 for boys and girl club entries also were arranged for.

Executive committees of the Marion Shorthorn, Holstein, Poland China, Hampshire and Duroc Jersey associations each agreed to promote the clubs of fifteen boys or girls and the fair board arranged to furnish suitable exhibition quarters and furnish each boy and girl a free admission ticket. Each member of these clubs will have an entry at the fair.

The Shorthorn and Holstein Breeders' associations each agreed to furnish $75 premium money and the fair board is to furnish the same amount. The Poland China, Hampshire and Duroc Jersey associations are each to raise $50 and the fair board will furnish the same amount.

Two awards from each association will include necessary expenses for the attendance of the winners at the state boys and girls club week at Columbus.

Walter Postle was hired as caretaker by the board for the ensuing year.

LOCAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Schweikert will reside at No. 599 Davids street.

CITY IN BRIEF

Taken Back to Columbus—George Taylor alias Selock, arrested last Friday, was taken to the home for the feeble minded in Columbus, Sunday, by an officer of that institution. Selock escaped from the place and was picked up here on a communication received from the institution.

Three Building Permits—Only three building permits were issued by the city clerk last week. The permits were taken out as follows: J. B. Colander, residence addition Claire avenue, $1,000; Emma Bodman, residence addition, Senate street, $300; William F. Douce, barn north Grand avenue, $65.

Robbed While at Church—Mrs. Hugh Worline, of No. 556 South Prospect street, reported to the police about 9:40 o'clock Sunday night that while the members of the family were attending church, the house was entered and two of her rings and a man's brown overcoat was missing. Entrance was gained through a rear window.

Fined for Loitering—Clarence Sheppard, giving his home as West Virginia, was arrested by an Erie officer in the railroad yards, early Sunday morning, and locked up on a loitering charge. On his plea of guilty before the mayor this morning, he was fined five dollars and in default of payment was put to work on the streets.

Held for Trespassing—Monroe Welker was arrested Saturday afternoon on the affidavit of Frank Schofield, in the mayor's court, on a charge of trespassing by driving over his property against the orders of Schofield's wife. Welker entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and his hearing was set for next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Glass Broken, No Robbery—A broken glass at the office of the Merkel Implement company on north Main street caused a report to be made to the police this morning that the office had been burglarized. The officers investigated and finding that the office had not been entered, concluded that the glass was probably broken by accident.

Mike Pusztai Pays—Mike Pusztai, of Kent, who with two companions was taken to the Dayton workhouse February 3 to work out a fine of $300 which was assessed against him for trafficking in intoxicating liquor, was released Sunday on payment of the fine. Pusztai came direct to Marion to secure his Ford machine and start for Kent.

In Critical Condition—Charles Bland, of Fargo, North Dakota, a former Marionite and a son of William Bland, of east Center street, is in a critical condition suffering from cerebral hemorrhage. He is in a hospital in St. Paul. His father, who is visiting his niece, Mrs. August Siegele, at Caldwell, New Jersey, was unable to go to his bedside owing to having recently suffered a fall in which he sprained one of his hips.

In Honor of Birthday—A number of friends pleasantly surprised Mr. Orr G. Craner, of Owens street, Saturday evening, in honor of his birthday anniversary. The evening was passed with games. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bowers, Mr. Harry Sells, Albert and Charles Corwin, of Bucyrus; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Washburn and son, Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watts, Mrs. L. M. Corwin, Miss Cora Ream, Miss Lulu Eaton and Miss Thelma Craner. Mr. Craner was presented a remembrance by the company.

Of Incendiary Origin—Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin was discovered by Officer Coffey about 9:50 o'clock Sunday night in the junk shop of Max Kesselman at the rear of No. 450 west Center street. The alarm was responded to by departments Nos. 1 and 2 and the firemen soon extinguished the blaze. Investigation disclosed that all of the doors were locked except a rear sliding door which was left slightly open. The fire was confined to a Buick touring car, the cushions and top of which were destroyed, while a ton was burned from a truck close by against another truck about fifty feet away, a bale of paper was burning. Fire Chief T. J. McFarland is investigating the cause of the blaze.

There is No Formality in The Marion County Bank

Banking in its ordinary aspects is serious enough but at "The Marion County" it readily responds to the tonic of a cheerful smile, or a friendly nod. This bank practices the smiling habit.

We take a personal interest in the business and financial problems of our depositors because we believe in the mutual value of acquaintanceship.

The growth of our business is due in a large measure to the friendly spirit of co-operation manifested by the men and women in our service.

We are trying to be a thoroughly helpful bank and invite you to co-operate with us to that end.

Famer's Notice.

Farmers are asked to pledge three dollar membership to the Farm Bureau why not require them to give a guarantee that the state organization will issue an annual correctly audited printed statement, and a copy sent to each member setting forth moneys received in the state amount expended, for what purposes and what has been accomplished, and if the results have been unsatisfactory the member be privileged to withdraw. NASH TRUCKS AND SERVICE

Insistent upon Service, and rightly so, the Truck buyer will be guided by the ability of the manufacturer to deliver that Service. Dealers who succeed will be equally insistent upon a full measure of Service. Therefore the manufacturer, wisely protecting his dealer and guarding the reputation of his Truck, must meet such Service demands.

The benefits of a Service, completely developed with a full knowledge of the Truck user's requirements, are enjoyed by all Nash Users. The implicit confidence placed in this Service department is entirely justified, because a system has been perfected which insures Nash Truck users with necessary replacements. Any Nash Truck user is within only a few hours of his replacement part.

Nash Truck parts Service is a reality—ask any Nash Truck user.
